The Lay Missionaries

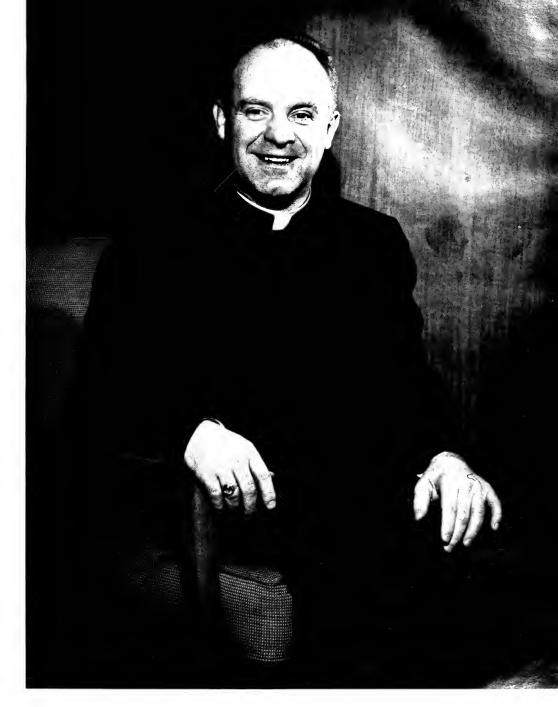

Each year many graduates and undergraduates of Carroll College answer the call to "Come, Follow Me," by giving themselves to spreading the Good News of Christ among the poor and unfortunate in both North and South America. In the ways of the world they go unrewarded, in the Kingdom of God, their reward will be hundred fold.

To these Carroll students, struggling at various points on this map we dedicate the 1966 HILLTOPPER.

The E. W. In the past year the club has sponsored tours of the observatory as well as discussions on prevalent scientific-philosophic controversies.

versies of this organization traveled to Spokane and to the University of Washington in Pullman to observe the many points of scientific interests at those places.

FALL!

A flower unblown; a book unread;
A tree with fruit unharvested;
A path untrod; a house whose rooms
Lack yet the heart's divine perfumes,
A landscape whose wide border lies
In silent shade 'neath silent skies
A wondrous fountain yet unsealed;
A casket with its gifts concealed—
This is the year that for you waits
Beyond tomorrow's mystic gates.

Each year the number of men that turn out to begin preparations for the Smoker increases. These students, many of whom must learn how to box, spend weeks training strenuously for the moments during which they can challenge the skill of their opponent.

Nose-bleeds are usually evidence of a tough fight.

Ed Longin and Phil Driscoll exchange blows.

The annual Carroll College Smoker is undoubtedly one of the most awaited events of the school year. Months of hard and devoted work go into the organization of the fights. Recognition should be given to the Junior Class, the fight assistants, and especially to the man who is most responsible for the continuous success of the Smoker, Mr. Henry Burgess.

Saint Baseball Squad Scores Well

The baseball squad, under the direction of Father William Corr, worked hard to regain the M.C.C. title after losing its chance for a four year title record in 1965. After losing several pre-season games, the Saints were unable to make a comeback in conference play. However, the team is credited with excellent performances; showing outstanding baseball ability throughout the season.

The younger members of the team learn through observation.

The Saints' baseball team will find it hard to replace the "old pro's" that graduated this year; however, upcoming team members show great promise of continuing the Tradition of Champions.
